

SCOTT H. ENGLUND

Post-Doctoral Fellow
Orfalea Center for Global and International Studies
University of California, Santa Barbara

senglund@ucsb.edu
703.300.2709 (mobile)

Curriculum Vitae

EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.), Political Science	University of California, Santa Barbara	2013
Master of Arts (MA), International Relations	University of San Diego	2001
Bachelor of Arts (BA), Political Science	San Diego State University	1996

Dissertation: At What Cost: U.S. Counter-terror policy, reputation and public opinion

Committee: Prof. Michael Stohl (Chair), Prof. M. Kent Jennings, Prof. Neil Narang

Summary: An on-line survey experiment was employed to investigate the relationship between the way a policy is described and the American public's policy preferences. Respondents were presented with a hypothetical terror threat scenario and asked to select a policy response from a menu of four increasingly risky and aggressive potential responses. Descriptions of the four responses varied in three ways: 1.) costs associated with the options emphasized material costs only, 2.) cost descriptions emphasized non-material, diplomatic costs, or damage done to U.S. reputation and influence, and 3.) respondents were given no information about potential costs at all. I found that when costs were described in terms of damage done to U.S. diplomatic relationships and reputation, people were less likely to select higher-risk, more aggressive options.

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Post-Doctoral Research Fellow, Orfalea Center for Global and International Studies, University of California, Santa Barbara (UCSB)
2015 to present

Non-Resident Fellow, TRENDS Research and Advisory, April 2015-Present

July, June, and April on-line publications can be read at: <http://trendsinstitution.org/>.

Adjunct Professor of Political Science, June 2013 to June 2015

Introduction to International Relations (UCSB, lower division, one quarter)
International Politics (UCSB, upper division, three quarters)
American Foreign Policy (UCSB, upper division, four quarters)
Special Offering: Intelligence and the U.S. Intelligence Community (UCSB, upper division, two quarters)
Introduction to American Politics (Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, lower division, one quarter)
International Development, Politics of the Third World (Westmont College, upper division, two semesters)

Graduate Student and Teaching Assistant, UCSB, 2002-2003; 2009-2013

Teaching assistant for ten courses to include: American Foreign Policy, International Relations (upper and lower division), and the Ethics of the Use of Force.

PUBLICATIONS

Englund, Scott. 2015. "At What Cost? United States' Counter-terrorism Strategy, Reputation, and Public Opinion," Perspectives on Terrorism, 9:39-55.

Englund, Scott and Michael Stohl. (forthcoming in 2016). "Chapter 10. Forms of Conflict: Terrorism. Situations, Structure, and Dispositions as an Analytical Framework," in Michael Stohl, Mark Lichbach and Peter Grabosky (eds.) States and Peoples in Conflict. New York: Routledge.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Primary research interests include: terrorism and counter-terror policy—both the effectiveness of policy and of public support for policy; political communication, the effectiveness of government communication strategies especially as they relate to national security policy. I am also interested in studying terror group communication strategies and how to counter them by focusing on how terrorist messages are tailored for different target groups.

TEACHING INTERESTS

International politics, American Foreign Policy, National Security Policy, Politics of the Developing World. Course design: I created and presented twice a unique simulation-based course on the US Intelligence Community. Philosophy: My courses include simulations and games to bridge the gap between theory and practice. I apply a variety of methods to assess student learning.

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT

Institute on Qualitative and Multi-Method Research, Syracuse University, Summer 2012
Counterterrorist Analyst Course, Joint Military Intelligence Training Center, Spring 2005
FBI Academy, Quantico, VA, Analyst Training, December 2004-January 2005

AWARDS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Institute on Social, Behavioral, and Economic Research,
Graduate Research Award for Social Science Surveys, 2013
Graduate Dean's Advancement Fellowship 2013
Lancaster Scholarship 2012, 2010
Departmental Fellowship 2010

PANELS AND PRESENTATIONS

Moderator and Panelist: Counterinsurgency and role of U.S. military in public diplomacy in Afghanistan and Iraq, November 2013 & March 2014, University of California, Santa Barbara
Panelist: Terrorism and Insurgency, Mid-Western Political Science Association Conference April 2013, Dissertation Chapter Presented
Panelist: The World After Bin Laden, implications on counter-terror policy, May 2011, University of California, Santa Barbara

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Intelligence Analyst, Politics and Government, BAE Systems, 2006-2009

Monitored, analyzed, evaluated, and disseminated information on political, economic, social, cultural, and physical trends pertaining to the Iraq conflict for senior policy officials and command elements. Trained and supervised other analysts. Prepared long-term and current intelligence assessments. Developed and delivered briefings and products to senior officers and policy officials, to include the President of the United States, Secretary of Defense, Joint Chiefs of Staff, Commanding General, MNF-I. Written work appeared in the President's Daily Brief, J2 Brief to the Secretary of Defense and Chairman, and Joint Chiefs of Staff, and other products. Deployed to Iraq theater of operations 4 times with 14 months in country. Held a TS/SCI clearance.

Intelligence Analyst, Federal Bureau of Investigation, 2004-2006

Served as a Reports Officer in the Counterterrorism Division. Provided threat information about possible terrorist violence in an effort to protect US interests overseas. Drafted and edited Intelligence Information Reports (IIRs) for dissemination to the Intelligence Community. Coordinated with field offices and local law enforcement agencies to ensure timely and accurate dissemination of terrorist threat information. Held a TS/SCI clearance.

Assistant for Community Relations, Office of the Mayor of San Diego, 2001-2002

Represented the Mayor and the City of San Diego at community meetings. Made presentations on the activity of the Mayor & City Council. Researched and composed responses to constituent mail. Tracked issues for the Mayor and policy staff in an assigned territory of the city. Created & implemented an intern program, recruited, hired and managed interns. Researched and composed papers reflecting the official position of the Mayor's office.

Staff Assistant & Field Representative for Federal and State Legislators, 1996-2000

Crafted thoroughly researched responses to constituent inquiries regarding the legislative process, function of government agencies and new legislation. Maintained situational awareness of key issues of importance to the representative's legislative agenda and district priorities. Coordinated volunteer activity during re-election campaign; trained and supervised volunteers. Maintained awareness of polling data; communicated polling information to campaign manager and candidate. Made presentations in the community on behalf of elected officials.

ACADEMIC REFERENCES

Professor Eric Smith,
Department of Political Science
University of California, Santa Barbara
smith@polsci.ucsb.edu

Professor Michael Stohl,
Department of Communication
University of California, Santa Barbara
mstohl@comm.ucsb.edu

Professor M. Kent Jennings
Department of Political Science
University of California, Santa Barbara jennings@polsci.ucsb.edu